

THIS WEEK IN THE GARDEN @ PRESCHOOL

Third Week of December

Get Local @ School Product of the Month = Apples

What's Growing?

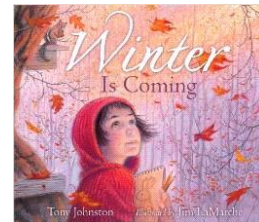

Winter offers opportunities to explore the garden in new ways. With a fresh coat of snow, children can find and trace animal and bird tracks. Can you help them make guesses about the tracks they see? Who do they belong to? Where do the tracks start? Where do they lead? What do the children think the animals were doing in the garden? By spending time in the garden in the winter, you and your students will find new ways of appreciating, observing, and using the space.

Activities

- ◆ Where do bugs go during the winter? Go exploring outside and try to locate some bug and bird habitats. Try looking for footprints or tracking where animals have been. What evidence is left behind?
- ◆ Do an outdoor scavenger hunt. Whomever finishes theirs first gets a special surprise inside.

Farm to School Book of the Week

Witness the changing of a season through a watchful child's eyes in this story of nature and discovery. Day after day, a girl goes to her favorite place in the woods and quietly watches from her tree house as the chipmunks, the doe, the rabbits prepare for the winter. Silently she observes the world around her as it reveals its secrets. It takes time and patience to see the changes as, slowly but
