

Fall Garden BINGO

Plant bulbs of garlic, onions, or flowers in the garden or a container.

Visit an apple orchard, pumpkin patch, or corn maze.

Regrow kitchen scraps (ex. celery, lettuce, or scallion bottoms, or tops of root veggies).

Collect acorns, leaves, pine cones, or other natural materials & use them in an art project.

Save the seeds from a fruit, vegetable, or flower to plant next year.

Rake up leaves or grass clippings. Add them to a compost pile or use them for mulch.

Lead a fall-themed fruit or veggie taste test for your friends or family.

Take a walk! Which trees are changing color, which stay green? Can you identify any of them?

Write a thank you note to a farmer or farm worker. Tell them why you appreciate them.

Plant a cold-hardy vegetable, such as spinach, kale, collard greens, or broccoli.

Make a bird feeder out of a pine cone or paper towel roll. Hang it outside!

Illustrate a Thanksgiving or other fall holiday recipe, step-by-step.

Free space! Choose your own fall activity.

Go on an early morning frost-walk & look for signs of frost outdoors.

Read a book about autumn.

Help mulch your garden beds or plant a cover crop.

Carve a pumpkin and roast the pumpkin seeds.

Plant an indoor herb garden, or do another indoor gardening project.

Make a recipe featuring a fruit or veggie that's harvested locally in the fall.

Make a batch of homemade applesauce or warm spiced apple cider.

Celebrate the NC Crunch by eating a locally grown apple in October!

Help clean up the garden & store garden tools for the winter.

Gather herbs or flowers and dry them.

Look at a seed catalog & make a list of what seeds you'd like to buy in the spring.

Use natural materials to make a fall or holiday decoration.
